

PINK CLASS

Pink class have been communicating with each other in lots of different ways and in lots of different situations. Some of us have used ALD (Aided language Display) boards or PECS (Picture Exchange Communication System) books to make choices on what we want on the magic carpet or at snack and lunch times .We all use the picture boards to choose songs we want to listen to. Some of us have made choices between two toast toppings in Food technology by reaching out to communicate preference. Some have verbalised 'more' or ' again ' when taking part in sensory stories or Attention Autism and enjoying the experiences . We have learnt to recognise facial expressions that tell us if we are happy, sad, excited or surprised at the texture or feel of something.
